CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKETS.

Curcago, Oc. 16 .- | Special Telegram to THE BEE. |- The wheat market was fairly active and steady within a narrow range, the tendency being in the direction of an Improvement in values. This was a surprise to the majority of the traders, who leaned to the bear side for a variety of reasons, among others weak and quiet cables, large Indian and Russian shipments, advanced ocean freight, lack of new export business for Europe or the continent, the enormous movement in the northwest, and the additional faith that Chicago prices are quite as high as those ruling at surrounding markets. The dry weather in the winter wheat country has been one of the influences favoring the buils, reports from many sections indicating serious alarm on that account. The drouth in Missouri and Kansas seems to have been broken, however, according to the weather reports, but the ground is as dry as a bone throughout the greater part of the Ohio vailey up to the present writing. There is, however, promise of rain. Other builish influences may be found in the small stocks of contract wheat and in the active presence of strong friends of wheat in all of the speculative markets. No matter how great the outpouring of long property may be, or how heavy the speculative offerings, the stuff is absorbed, and the market stiffens under the load. This is one thing that attracts the personal notice of scalpers and the generality of market watchers. It is getting to be almost as great a mystery what becomes of the offerings of futures as it has been what becomes of the great mass of wheat that has left farmers' hands. The board's correspondent made an increase of about 1,500,000 bushels on passage, somewhat less than Beerbohm's figures. Receipts at primary points continue to be very large, the postings to day showing about $20,000 bushels arrived at western points and 937,-422 bushels received at all points east and west, against 359,597 bushels shipped, of which 115,000 busnels left the country. Northwestern receipts were large, Minneapolis getting 531 cars. On account of the blockade only 154 cars were registered at Duluth. Elevator people in northern Minnesota and North Dakota say that the rush of wheat from first hands has never been heavier than now and that the extent of the movement is only restricted by the capacity of the rolling stock. December capacity of the rolling stock. December opened at $2c, advanced to $214@823c, sold off to $15c, worked up to $214c, hung for a long time around $214@823c, and then during the last half bour got strong and advanced to $214@823c, closing at $21c, May opened at $5c, sold off to $44c, up to $54c, off again to $44c, up to $55c, reacting fractionally, but closing at $5c, reacting fractionally. and closed at 80%c. The net gain for the day was %c. Other domestic markets kept along in line with Chicago.

There was the same absence of life in the speculative branch of the corn business which has so long distinguished it, accompanied by the same apparent despair of higher prices. A falling off in receipts was the only feature from which comfort could be drawn by the bulls, but they are not sufficiently marked or long continued to give alarm to the shorts. The operators last referred to stand pat on their sales and take advantage of any rally in price to increase their line. There was some trading to-day and for the first time on this crop in June and July corn, the former selling between two prominent operators at good inquiry for May at 33c, but November was freely offered by a prominent speculator in any desired quantity. Fluctuations in price were both slight and infrequent and the closing quotations are only slightly altered from the figures at the corresponding time of the day before. October closed at 30% (30%) November at 31% and May at Outs shared the general quietade, with the speculative market dall and easy in tone, trade being chiefly in May, with hear futures almost at a standstill. May opened fully steady at $22\frac{1}{2}c\tau_c\ ceipts fell materially below the estimate and withdrawals for shipments were liberal.

No. 2 regular was steady at 18% c.
Provision traders found the market quite interesting. There was no great activity, but there was more doing than on either of the former days of the week and the busi-ness transacted appeared to attract general attention. Hutchinson, however, was the largest individual operator. He bought pork and ribs for January delivery with freedom His purchases, in fact, are sufficient to induce rather free covering upon the part of the shorts. In October pora trading was light, ranging at $10.75\(\tilde{o}\) 11.00 and closing at $10.95, or 20c higher than yesterday. The clique was again defeated in its in-junction proceedings before the state judiciary. The supreme court of Illinois at Ottawa denied the writ. In the United States court application was made for an in-junction, which will be considered on Mon-day. The clique has been taking matters connected with the market quietly of late. The new cork offered to its representatives in settlement of contracts has been either refused or taken under protest, and in its course there has been no change or new de velopments. In the general trade the short interest outstanding for October is said to be much smaller than expected. The clique now owns about 70,000 barrels of pork. In the general trade a stronger feeling was the rule to-day. Based on yesterday's final prices, the closings indicated an advance of 214c on October and November lard, October short ribs and November pork, 5c on January short ribs and 20c on January pork. January lard was unchanged.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE. |- CATTLE-The demand was fair. Prime cattle were not plentiful and prices were steady all around. Medium and common grades ruled slow, yet were sold out at one price or another. Texans, especially common, were reported in good demand and steady. There was a good display of range steers on the market, many of which were the best seen here in a month. Native butchers' stock, especially old cows, are not as plentiful as last week, with prime helfers selling better. There was fair business in the stocker and feeder line, but at the regulation low price. The receipts of cattle were lation low price. New York, Oct. 16 .- | Special Telegram to THE BER.]-STOCKS-The stock market started nervously again to-day. There was less dash to bear operations than on previous days. A feature of the early trading was the upturn in Sugar Trusts. The market soon developed considerable animation.

Atchison, Missouri Pacific, St. Paul, Lackawanna, Reading, New England and two trusts-Sugar and Cotton Oliwere the leaders in the matter of activity. The market was rather weak, however, while Atchison was inclined to advance at first, and did rise 14 to 31, but it quickly gave way with the rest of the list and declined to 29%. The rest of the general list followed with small fractional losses, though Missouri Pacific lost % and Oregon Transcontinental 1/4 per cent. without any effect. Many who until recently thought the high rates for meney due the increased strength after 11 o'clock was traced to purchases for bear operators.

OMAHA LIVE STOCK.

Cattle Wednesday, Oct. 16.
To-day's trading in cattle was at about steady prices so far as the best grades of beeves were concerned. There was an easier feeling on the part of some sellers who had something that was not especially desir The native steers sold at $3.60@4.30 largely at $1,90@4.30. Feeders moved slowly although there were a good many would be buyers in the yards. A few natives brought $2.30@2.40, and some good westerns $2.65. Butchers' stock was firm and the supply was not large, but there were pienty of canners. Quite a string of western canners prought $1.30.

To-day's market was 10c lower on heavy and mixed packers in sympathy with the decline at eastern points. A few loads sold early at prices steady to 5c lower, some lights selling as high as $4.05 and some good heavy hogs at $1.00. Although the market was slow, salesmen being unwilling to accept the prices, by midday the yards were oretty well cleared. Some of the best heavy negs sold early to the Boston trade at $3.95@ protte well cleared 4.00, as against $4,00% 1.05 on vesterday. Th trade in light hogs was not large, the supply being moderate and some of the heaviest buyers of assorted lights were not on the

The decision of the inter-state commerce mmission that traffic unloaded at any point for any other purpose than continued on-ward progress becomes local traffle, and must take the local rate is aimed at the custom of stopping cattle at South Omaha, and, if sold to shippers, allowing them to go on at the through rates. This by no means affects the "stop over" privilege which has always been granted, but in case the cattle are sold here to a shipper or speculator, such buyer cannot reship the cattle in his own name on the through billing, but must pay local rates. No one can, however, prevent such cattie, after they are sold here, from being shipped on in the original owner's name, the buyer receiving an order from the owner to have the cattle turned overon their arrival at Chicago or other points of destination. The most that the decision can do is to put shippers to a little extra trouble. At the present time few cattle are being bought here for shipment to eastern markets, the local packers and feeders taking about everything that

Something to Remember. If you are going east, remember the Rock Island Route's run the sleepers and chair cars of their solid vestibule train to and from the Omaha depot, leaving Omaha at 8:45 p. m. thus avoid-ing the transfer at Council Bluffs. Three solid trains daily. All chair cars are free. Dining carson all through trains. Our trains make close connections with all eastern limited trains connecting in union depot at Chicago, avoiding a transfer across the city to parties en route to New York. Boston and other eastern cities, "and everything a little better than other lines can offer."
